

Continuous Learning

R. David Lankes
Syracuse University iSchool

January 28, 2011 at 6 pm

Tuesday, August 26, 14

Tuesday, August 26, 14

Library Response

- Hold Classes in the Library and Coordinate Safe Space
- Provided Free and Reduced Lunches
- Provide Activities and “Distractions”

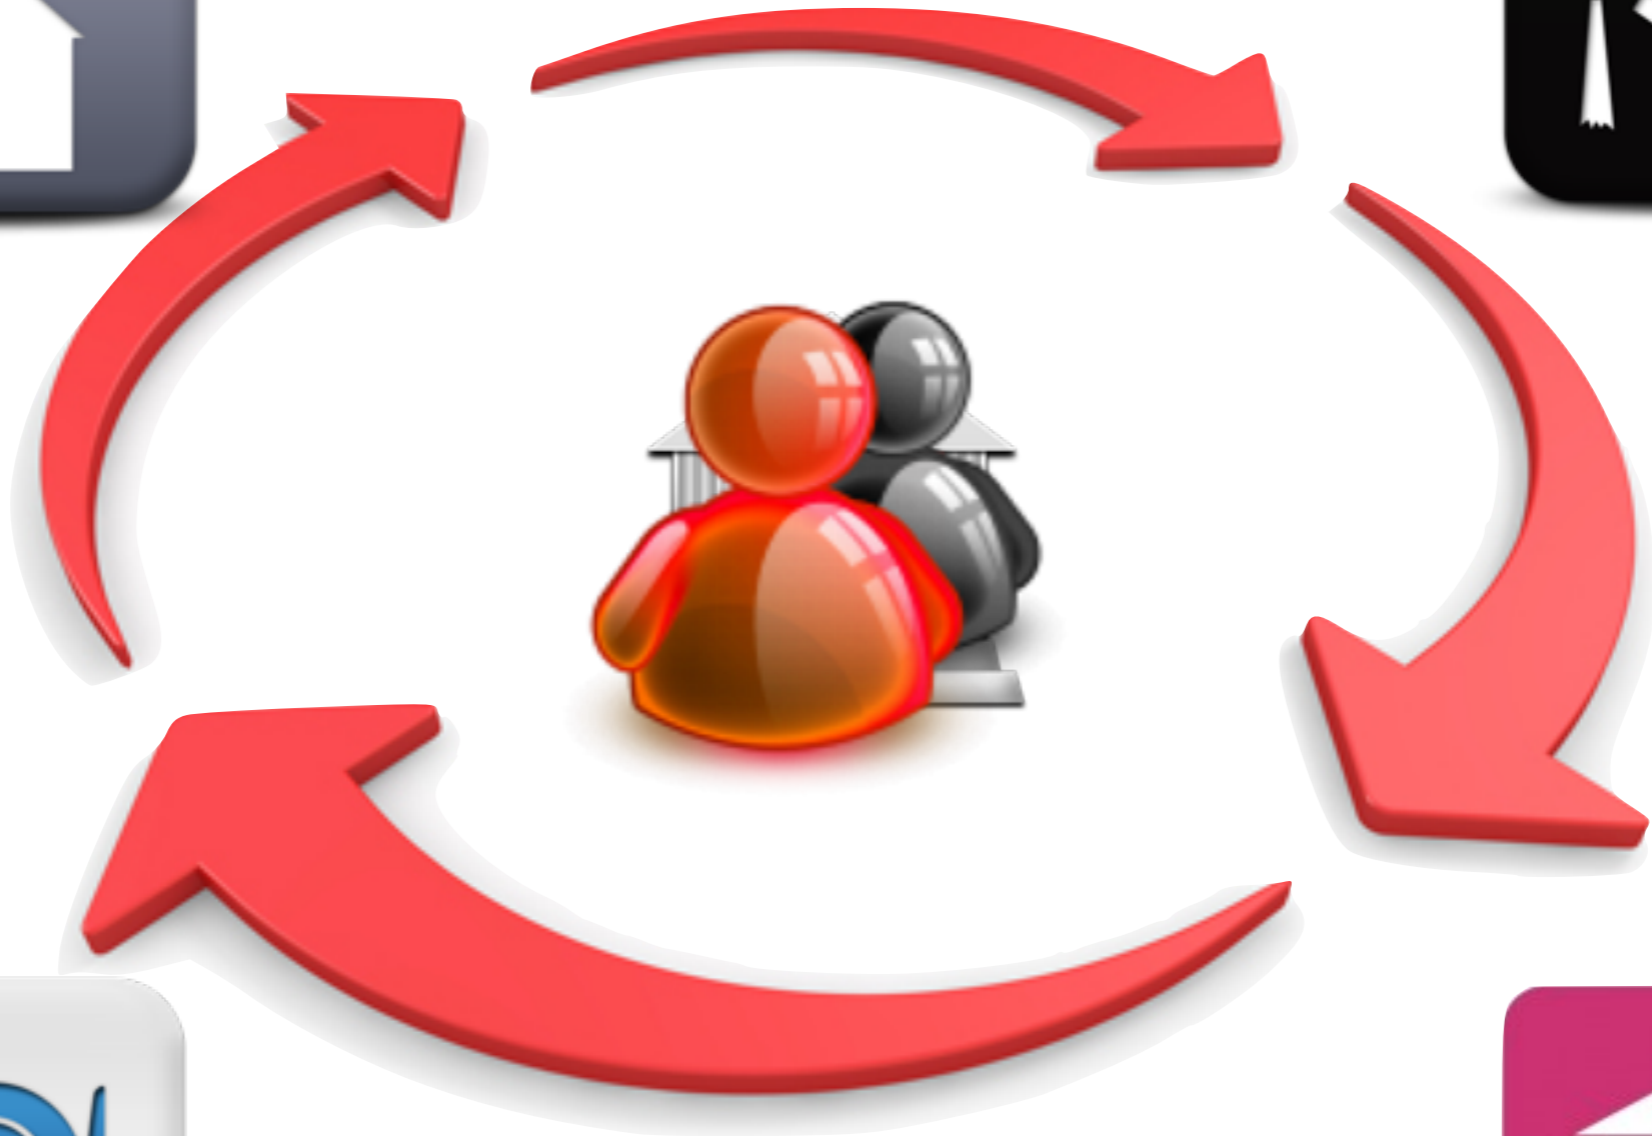

“This is what libraries do. We supplement our educational system regularly with after school programs and summer programs. We provided free lunches all summer long through a collaboration with Operation Food Search because we recognize that a large portion of our community qualifies for free and reduced price lunches.”

-Jennifer Ilardi, 5 | 1 Student Summer '14

Library Fallacies

Library \neq Collection

Librarian \neq Library

Library or Librarian \neq Positive Change

It Is Not The Size Of Your Collection, But
The Reach Of Your Community That Really Matters

The Importance of Learning

- Prepared in Networking?
- Prepared in Crisis Management?
- Prepared in Communications?
- Prepared in Bridging Cultural Boundaries?
- Prepared in “Transformative Social Engagement?”

Bachelor

Masters

Doctorate

Commencement

Bachelor

Masters

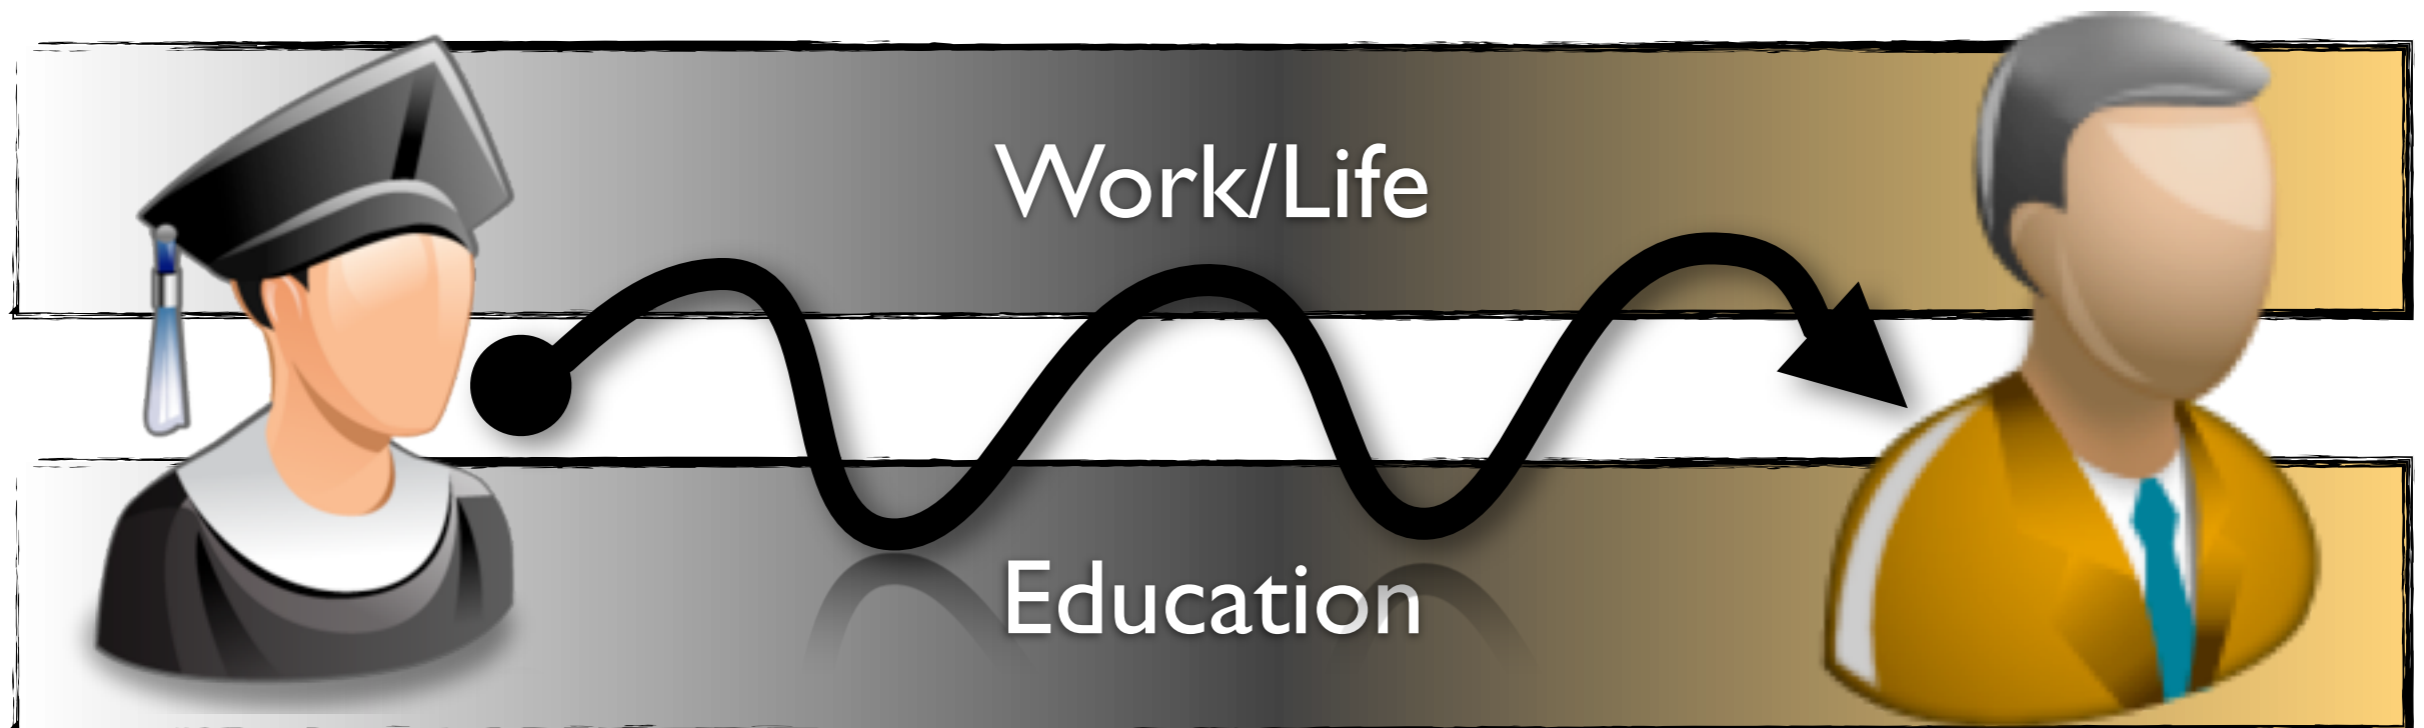

Doctorate

Commencement

Continuing Education

Continuous Education

Need Learning Plan

- What Is YOUR Curriculum For Being A Modern Librarian?
- What Are Your Learning Standards?
- How Does That Translate Into A Plan?
- Does Your Place Of Work Support The Plan?
- How Does This Keynote Add To It?

Content Layer

Curriculum/Standards

Presentation Layer

Personal Curriculum/Standards

Portable Transcript

and Dinner
12 Noon and 5PM

HOT FOOD

10 A Noon + 5pm

~~Church
BEO~~

